A detailed view of a premium airplane cabin seat, likely from a Boeing 787-10. The seat is upholstered in a dark, textured fabric with a white headrest and a black seatbelt. The seat is positioned next to a large, dark entertainment screen that is tilted back. To the right of the seat is a side table with a light-colored wood-grain finish and a black top. The background shows the interior of the aircraft, including the overhead storage bins and the cabin wall.
